

Cody Farm is a 150 acre farm located in Richfield, NC owned and operated by Sherrill and Jennifer Cody. They are a third generation farm family growing corn and soybeans and raising poultry. They harvested the first crop of strawberries in 2007. They specialize in strawberries, blueberries and raspberries and also sell fresh vegetables at their farm stand. Their farm products can be found at local farmers' markets, roadside stands and through deliveries to worksites and other locations. The goal of Cody Farm is to produce the best and freshest products for their customers.
