K-12 Goal

All children need to start school healthy and ready to learn. Youth must be able to demonstrate competencies in critical and analytical thinking, teamwork, communication, problem solving, decision-making, and goal setting. Students must possess the skills to be ready for work or continuing education, have the knowledge and skills needed to be competitive in the global economy and to fully participate in our democratic system

The screenshot shows a Windows Internet Explorer browser window displaying the website <http://nationsreportcard.gov/>. The browser's address bar shows the URL, and the page title is "The Nation's Report Card". The website header features the logo "The Nation's Report Card" and the tagline "...the official site for results from the National Assessment of Educational Progress". Below the header, there is a navigation menu with "Help" and "Glossary" links. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column contains a "REPORT CARDS" section with links for Civics, Economics, Mathematics, Reading, Science, U.S. History, Writing, Trial Urban District Assessments, and Nation's Report Card Archive. Below this is an "Information for..." section with links for Media, Parents, Educators, Policymakers, and Researchers. The right column features a large banner with the text "Uncover the Nation's Report Card with NAEP web tools" and links for "create charts", "search sample questions", and "compare performance by state". Below the banner is a section titled "Most Current Report Card Releases..." which includes three report card thumbnails: "Civics Report Card", "Economics Report Card", and "Mathematics Report Card". The browser's status bar at the bottom shows the address <http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/> and the page zoom level at 100%.

The screenshot shows a Windows Internet Explorer browser window displaying the NC School Report Cards website. The address bar shows the URL <http://www.ncreportcards.org/src/>. The page features a navigation bar with "CONTACT US" and a logo for "Education First NC SCHOOL REPORT CARDS". A sidebar on the left contains a message from Howard Lee and June St. Clair Atkinson, explaining the purpose of the report cards. The main content area is titled "SEARCH OPTIONS" and includes a dropdown menu for the school year (2007-08) and a section for choosing a search method. The search methods include Quick Search, Map Search, and Advanced Search. A list search dropdown is open, showing a list of school systems such as Alamance-Burlington Schools, Alexander County Schools, and others. A "508 Bobby Approved" logo is visible in the bottom right corner of the search area. A "LINKS" section is partially visible at the bottom of the page.

NC SCHOOL REPORT CARDS

A MESSAGE FROM HOWARD LEE AND JUNE ST. CLAIR ATKINSON

The NC School Report Card for the 2007-08 school year is designed to give you comprehensive information about all of North Carolina's public schools, public charter schools, 115 school districts and the state's pre-K - 12th grade performance. This information resource includes important information about student achievement, class size, school safety and environment, and teacher quality as well as demographic details about schools and districts.

We hope this "one-stop shop" for school information is helpful to parents, educators and the entire public school community. Please note that one helpful feature of the School Report Card is the capability to complete advanced searches for specific kinds of performance and quality information about North Carolina public schools. Our goal is to ensure that North Carolina citizens and parents have the tools to be well informed.

Thank you for your interest and support of North Carolina public schools.
