Forestry and Environmental Outreach Program

College of Natural Resources
Department of Forestry and Environmental Resources

Happy New Year from FEOP

This newsletter contains the growing list of coming events for 2010. Many of the workshops and training events are familiar repeats and others are unique opportunities. In each case we request continuing education accreditation from appropriate organizations like the Society of American Foresters, American Planning Association, International Society of Arboriculture, and the NC Board of Examiners for Engineers & Surveyors. Please visit our web page to review the details of these events at www.ncsu.edu/feop/programs.html.

Thank you for your regular communications with us which helps assure our programs are of value. More than ever, we are committed to bringing low-cost, high quality, accredited programs to natural resources professionals.

Exploring the Working Forest Easement Options for the Family Forest

The Forest Education and Conservation Foundation, with grant support by the NC Agricultural Development and Farmland Preservation Trust Fund, is sponsoring four regional workshops for forest landowners this year. The workshops will provide practical information about conservation easement opportunities for private forest landowners. Each workshop qualifies for 3.5 hours of Category 1-CF from the Society of American Foresters.
