

Clover Column

Granville County 4-H

September 2015

Summer is over, now what?

There are lots of activities happening throughout the fall and winter that you should be a part of!

This summer we had tons of fun in 4-H. From camping trips, to museums, aquariums, and more! This was definitely a busy summer to say the least. However many people often forget about 4-H once summer is over because they either do not realize that there are other programs available, or they are busy with other activities. Granville County 4-H will continue to have fun, and educational opportunities throughout the fall and winter months. The 4-H agent is hard at work planning trips to professional sport games such as the Carolina Hurricanes, exciting...

Quote

"You're off to great places,
Today is your day!
Your mountain is waiting,
so get on your way!"

-Dr. Seuss

Project Record Book Workshop

Project record books are an important part of any 4-Her's career. You work so hard day and night to complete and project or activity, why not record it all in a neat little booklet and turn it in to win awards and prizes?

Project record books are an avenue for you to record what you learned and what skills you gained through a project. Over a period of years, project record books will also show how you have grown and matured. Information you complete on your project record books can be helpful later in life too when you start filling out college applications, resumes, and job applications. Plus, the best part, you can turn in as many as you want!

It is as easy as having a project plan, recording what happens during the project, giving it your personal touch by making a mini-scrapbook, and then telling your 4-H story. It is really an awesome experience!

More on the next page!

September Save the Dates!

- Saturday, 12th, Tar River Festival
- Thursday, 17th, 2nd Hay Bale Decorating Contest Meeting 6:00PM @ CES office
- Saturday, 19th, Creedmoor Music Festival & Vance County Livestock Show
- Thursday, 24th, Project Record Book Workshop, 6:00PM CES office
- Saturday, 25th, 4 County Livestock Show, Granville Expo Center

CES= Cooperative Extension Service

Get Ready for the Fair!

The 2015 North Carolina State Fair is right around the corner! Are you planning on submitting any entries to the many 4-H contests that are available? There is everything from animal and livestock shows, to flower and garden shows, crafts, clothing, jewelry, and more! There are also lots of ribbons, rosettes, trophies, and MONEY ready to be awarded at the fair this year! Let's have Granville County well represented and make our presence known at this year's North Carolina State Fair!

If you are interested in learning more about how to complete a project record book, your 4-H Extension Agent will be having a workshop on Tuesday, September 24th at 6:00PM at the Cooperative Extension Office. Please RSVP by calling (919) 603-1350. We hope to see many of you there and tons of project record books next year!

Summer is over, now what? (cont.)

new workshops that will be very handy when it comes time to submit project record books and portfolios. We are also planning some holiday get-togethers and community service opportunities such as a Halloween Bash and a Granville County 4-H donation event to the local children's home or other charity. If you have any other ideas that would make an excellent 4-H opportunity, please let the 4-H office know by calling Taylor anytime at (919) 603-1350. If you are interested in activity mentioned in this article, but have questions, also give us a call. Granville County 4-H looks forward to having lots of fun in the months to come. Check back for more updates!

Teen Council Update

As many of you already know, Granville County is in the process of creating a brand new 4-H Teen County Council. The council will be made up of a President, Vice-President, Secretary/Treasurer, and Reporter/Historian. We will also have a representative from every club in the county. This council will help the 4-H agent with programming efforts. Here is what you need to know.

1. If you are interested in running for an officer position, please talk to Taylor about the application process. It's easy!
2. Please decide on a club representative no later than November 1st. Inform Taylor on your representative soon after.
3. Our officers will be voted on and the entire council will be inducted at the Annual Achievement Night. More Details to come

If you have any questions, call (919) 603-1350. Or email tejones5@ncsu.edu

NC Cooperative Extension Service Commitment to Diversity

The North Carolina Cooperative Extension System values diversity as a rich attribute that allows our organization to fulfill its educational mission in North Carolina. Diversity is reflected in the core differences of all human beings and is valued among employees, clientele, and educational partners. These differences are the basis for our values, attitudes, beliefs, and perceptions that allow us to develop human roadmaps for the good of our world. We continue to welcome and acknowledge the positive impact related to differences in age, culture, class, ethnicity, gender, physical and mental abilities, race, sexual orientation, political beliefs, marital or family status, spiritual practice, and all dimensions of human diversity. Come join us in our continued diversity journey!

Taylor E. Jones

Extension Agent, 4-H Youth Development

North Carolina Cooperative Extension Service

North Carolina State University

Granville County Center

208 Wall Street

Oxford, North Carolina 27565

p. (919) 603-1350

f. (919) 603. 0268

tejones5@ncsu.edu

