

Warren County Local Food Promotion Council Community Dinner "Report-Out" Summary

On April 30, 2019, fifty members of the Warren County community gathered at the Armory Civic Center for a meal and discussion about food traditions and food security. Our goal was to encourage all community members to take their "place at the table" to participate in the conversation. We know that there is not a single solution to this complex problem, and we need input from everyone if we are to make progress addressing it.

We asked all participants to center their dinner discussions around six questions pertaining to their individual experiences and ideas in relation to food security and traditions. Many lively discussions ensued, and this report represents only a portion of them. It is our hope that the conversations started during this Forum may continue and expand. For more information about the Local Food Promotion Council and how to get involved, contact NC Cooperative Extension, Warren County Center at 252-257-3640

What is your favorite food memory associated with Warren County or your childhood home?

